Road Construction in Your Area

Ash Way is an evolving corridor and Snohomish County wants to enhance mobility along the roadway from the Admiralty Way-Gibson Road intersection to the 18th Avenue W roundabout. Snohomish County Public Works is beginning to evaluate options to improve the corridor and wants your input.

Open House

Join us at our Open House on Wednesday, June 17 at Odyssey Elementary School from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. to learn more about project plans and share your insights on the design.

Proposed Improvements

This project is currently in the early stages of the design phase. Some of the improvements being considered include:

- Widening Ash Way from two to three lanes (add center turn lane)
- Improving access to transit
- Adding sidewalks, walkways and/or bicycle lanes for non-motorized transportation alternatives
- Improving intersections throughout the corridor including the installation of roundabouts or signals
- Adding stormwater treatment facilities

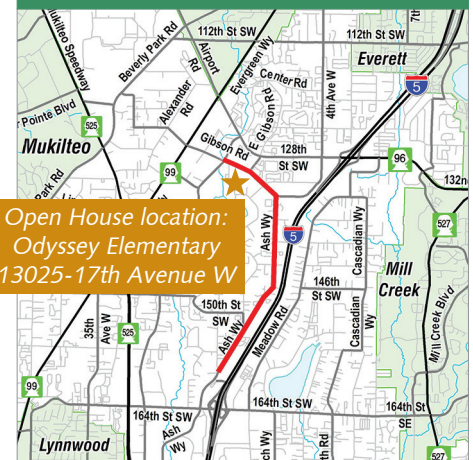

Timeframe

A preliminary design report for the Ash Way corridor is expected to be completed by late summer 2015 and the design of the project will continue in the upcoming years. Construction is currently expected to be phased to address key sections of the corridor and may begin as early as 2017, depending on funding availability.
